You can build and upgrade various types of towers and choose your favorite upgrades. You can build towers and collect resources by the combination of different types of booster and reactor. The defense force is here! The defense force accelerates the production of towers and the tower defense game can be played. Where is the enemy? Could you defeat the enemy? The time has come. Defeat your enemies! TerTD is a mix of tower defense and real-time strategy. Its goal is to annihilate the enemy. The tower defense online game features 5 missions with different enemies and terrain. Command-base is the most important building in the game. Upon the destruction of command-base by the enemy, the player immediately loses the game. The player can build various types of towers and choose your favorite upgrades. These towers must be connected to the energy network which has at least one reactor or the command-base. You can build towers and collect resources by the combination of different types of booster and reactor. Regarding the defense force, you can deploy the defense force to the battlefield to strengthen your tower and defense force. If more energy is consumed than gained, weapons won't be able to be recharged as quickly. In addition, you can use command-base to enhance the defensive capabilities of the command-base. Let's use the booster well. The booster strengthens the turret and drone base. The combination of high cost tower and red booster, the combination of drone and blue booster, is effective.
