(FREE) · FreedomtubeforPC s.Q: Try with and catch exception in LINQ i have this try { jsonData = JsonConvert.DeserializeObject(Id_Servicio.Text.Trim()); } catch (Exception ex) { MessageBox.Show(ex.ToString()); } And i want return when exception, this is possible? A: Do you have a specific exception type you want to return in the case of an error? If not, try using the generic error handling method: using (var reader = new StreamReader("id.json")) { jsonData = JsonConvert.DeserializeObject(reader.ReadToEnd()); } A: If you want to handle the exception as a generic type T (with a specific type parameter for that case), you should do so in your catch block: try { jsonData = JsonConvert.DeserializeObject(Id_Servicio.Text.Trim()); } catch (Exception ex) { var dataType = ex.GetType(); MessageBox.Show("Error deserializing: " + dataType.Name); } Otherwise, use the generic error handling method: try { jsonData = JsonConvert.DeserializeObject(Id_Servicio.Text.Trim()); } catch (JsonSerializationException ex) { MessageBox.Show("Error deserializing: " + ex.Message); } Note that for the try-catch construct, you need to indicate the type parameter for T when throwing the exception (this is how catch(Exception ex) works). You don't need to do this for the error handling block using a catch ()
